

Ammar A. Rizvi BA, BSN, RN

Monmouth County Regional Health Commission

Ammar Rizvi is the Public Health Nurse Manager for the Monmouth County Regional Health Commission, where he serves a population of over 180,000 individuals and over twenty towns. Ammar has a passion for disease control and management, population health awareness and education. His responsibilities range from responding to communicable disease outbreaks, nursing case management, vaccination program management and day to day nursing operations. Ammar also believes in implementing change through public health education.

Before working in Public Health Ammar served as a cardiac nurse. Ammar has served as an NJAPHNA Committee Executive Member for two years and is now looking forward to serving as the current NJAPHNA Vice President. His education consists of a degree in Biological Sciences from New Jersey City University, and a Bachelors of Science Degree in Nursing from MCPHS University School of Nursing. Ammar brings a wealth of knowledge and experience into the field of Public Health.

When Ammar is not working, he enjoys spending time with his family and friends. Ammar enjoys the outdoors, horseback riding, and volunteering at his local community center.